Cruises

Cruises are great value for money because they include your room, all meals and entertainment. You can look from $80 per person per day. Drinks and shore excursions are very reasonable.

All inclusive resorts

There are many all inclusive resorts. Club Med and Warwick are two chains that have all inclusive packages. These are great because you know the total cost of your holiday before you leave. Warwick and some Club Med resorts not only include accommodation meals and non-motorised sports activities they also include alcohol. The only bad thing about these resorts is that some people don't want to leave the resort for the day because they are missing out on a meal or two and tend to stay at the resort.
